It's Time for Full-Crew Law to Go

A news item from Bob C. Worley, Forth Smith, chairman of a Shippers' Committee representing the principal industries and farm associations of Arkansas, advises me that on Wednesday, June 21, he will file with the Secretary of State, Little Rock, a petition to place on the general election ballot this year an initiated act to repeal our state's so-called full-crew law.

Down through the years The Star has supported every full-crew repealer attempt and will do so again this November.

It is not that we are anti-labor. To the contrary, the actual effect of a full-crew law is to depress full employment. This is the majority opinion of impartial economists—but you can't tell that to hard-headed unionists, seeking special privilege at the expense of all the other workers in our state.

Several general elections ago a local railroad union official whom I knew quite well took me to task for supporting a current proposal to repeal full-crew. He said: "It won't cut your freight bill." I replied: "Perhaps not—but it may prevent our freight rate from going still higher."

The Star has a direct stake in the repealer. So do all our subscribers and advertisers. We bring in three carloads of newspaper (paper) one year, and four cars the next, averaging 90 to 120 tons annually. And all of it comes by rail.

But freight rates have gone so high, and labor for drayage (car unloading) has grown so scarce that right now we are weighing the possibility of quitting rail shipments and going to truck delivery. If we buy an expensive fork-lift truck equipped with newsprint clamps we can unload a truck with a couple of men—compared to a whole crew required in unloading a box car.

Obviously, artificially-increased railroad freight rates hurt general business and depress general hiring of labor all over Arkansas.

It simply doesn't make sense to support an Arkansas-only law which compels the railroad to add extra men to a crew whose original size was considered "safe" in Missouri, pay them for the trip across Arkansas, and then lay them off on reaching Texas, where the original crew size is considered, as in Missouri, to be "safe."

Finally, Mr. Worley reported in an advertisement in The Star June 14 that Wisconsin recently repealed its full-crew law—making Arkansas the only state with this obsolete law still on its book.

Vote for repeal in November.

118 die in plane crash

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — A British jetliner crashed Sunday just after taking off for Brussels, killing all 118 persons aboard. It was the worst air crash on British soil, and the dead included 29 Americans.

Among the victims were at least 12 British physicians on their way to a professional congress and several top leaders of Irish industry.

The three-jet Trident airliner, operated by British European Airways, plunged into a field near a busy road two minutes after taking off from London's Heathrow Airport. The plane was full, many of the passengers having booked seats to beat the international pilot's strike today.

Britain's aerospace minister, Michael Heseltine, visited the crash site and said later "both flight recorders on the plane have been recovered and their information will be fed into computers to help the official inquiry into the disaster."

Most of the Irish victims were members of a delegation of industrialists going to Brussels for talks at the headquarters of the Common Market.

Among them were Con Smith, president of the Confederation of Irish Industry; Michael Sweetman, an economist and writer who was director of the Irish Council of the European Movement; Ivan Webb, chairman of the Council of the Irish Employers' Federation; and Guy Jackson, an executive of Guinness Brewery who played on Ireland's Davis Cup tennis team.

The doctors were traveling to an international homeopathic congress. Among them were Dr. Thomas Fergus Stewart, an authority on homeopathy, and his wife Dr. Elizabeth Stewart. He was superintendent of a hospital in Glasgow, Scotland.

The worst previous air crash in Britain occurred 21 years ago when an Avro Tudor loaded with Welsh football fans crashed, killing 81 persons.

The crash Sunday was the third in five days in which there was a heavy loss of life. Ninety died Wednesday when a Japan Airlines DC8 crashed in India, and 81 persons were killed Thursday when a Cathay Pacific Convair went down in South Vietnam's central highlands.

Republicans hold convention in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Republicans will hold a state convention July 15 as a preliminary step to selecting the party's delegates to the GOP National Convention in August.

The Executive Committee decided Saturday to call the convention so that it may elect a new state committee, which will, in turn, pick the delegation to the National Convention.

Bob Scott of Little Rock, GOP attorney, said the action was necessary because of national party rules prohibiting delegates from being selected by a state committee which had been elected before Dec. 11, 1971.

County committees were to meet today and select representatives to the state convention. The National Convention delegation will include 18 members. Officials said there would be nine women and nine men in the delegation.

Scott said the state party had found, like its Democratic counterpart, that it was not in compliance with national party rules, warranting special action.

But he said the difference between the two parties was that the Democrats called on Gov. Dale Bumpers to summon a special session of the legislature to iron out their problems. The special session, meeting earlier this year, moved up the primary dates this year to provide enough time for the delegate-selecting procedures before next month's Democratic National Convention.

Moscow radio demands U.S. halt VN military activities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Moscow Radio demanded today that the United States "immediately and unconditionally" halt military actions against North Vietnam's ports and resume "constructive talks" in Paris.

The broadcast also said the Soviet government would continue to supply "all necessary aid" to Hanoi's war effort. The Soviet blast put a dampener on anticipations of new peace moves from the Communist side generated by a flurry of diplomatic visits to the Far East. Henry A. Kissinger was due in Peking, Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny completed a visit to Hanoi, and North Vietnam's representative in secret talks with Kissinger, Politburo member Le Duc Tho, returned to Hanoi after talks in the Chinese capital.

The Moscow Radio broadcast was the first Soviet acknowledgment of Podgorny's trip to Hanoi. It said he had conferred there with Xuan Thuy, the chief of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks, and with Le Duc Tho. Podgorny himself had heightened the expectations of some movement toward peace when he told newsmen in Calcutta Sunday that the Paris talks would resume "soon" and that "the Soviet Union will do everything possible for a de-escalation of the Vietnam war."

North Vietnam gave no concrete evidence of any change so far. A weekend Hanoi broadcast demanded once more that the United States cease bombing North Vietnamese territory and blockading its ports. The Soviet statement on Podgorny's trip, which was also published in Tass, the official news agency, said the Vietnamese Communists' seven-point peace program — which the United States rejected — "constitutes a constructive basis for settlement" of the Vietnamese situation.

Following a weekend stop-over in Hawaii, Kissinger left Guam early today for Shanghai and Peking. The U.S. presidential adviser was due tonight in the Chinese capital for a new round of talks with Chinese leaders both on furthering the normalization of Washington-Peking relations and on "issues of common interest." It was a foregone conclusion that Vietnam was among those issues.

The Paris talks on Vietnam were suspended indefinitely May 4 when the U.S. side accused the Communists of failing to negotiate seriously.

Four days ago, the United States rejected another Communist request to resume the meetings. William J. Porter, the chief U.S. delegate, said continued fighting in South Vietnam showed the Communists still do not want to negotiate.

RECEIVES GRANT TO DEVELOP PARK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Arkansas Department of Parks and Tourism has received $987,000 federal grant to develop a new state park on the DeGray Reservoir near Arkadelphia.

The grant from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will be matched by $987,000 in state funds.

The park is to be built on a 715-acre tract of land in Hot Spring and Grant counties. The development will include 100 campsites, an information and service building, roads and parking areas and sewer, water and electrical systems.

The park will be located 15 miles northwest of Arkadelphia near Arkansas 7.

The office of Sen. John I. McClellan, D-Ark., made the announcement of the grant approval Saturday.

3 U.S. carriers shut down

Strike by pilots is underway

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Airline pilots launched a worldwide 24-hour strike early today, forcing the cancellation of service by 19 foreign flag airlines. However, only a few U.S. carriers had to ground all flights immediately.

In the United States, only Eastern Airlines, Southern Airways and Northeast Airlines among the larger carriers shut down service as pilots defied a temporary federal court injunction against participation in the strike by members of the U.S. Airline Pilots Association.

Some of America's largest airlines announced their pilots were not taking part in the work stoppage. There were no immediate reports of major schedule disruptions at any U.S. airports.

The strike, which took effect at 2 a.m. EDT, was called by the International Federation of Airline Pilots to dramatize its belief that more stringent measures are needed to discourage airplane hijackings.

"It's under way," a spokesman for the ALPA said shortly after the 2 a.m. deadline. He acknowledged it would be hard to assess the impact of the strike during the early morning hours when fewer flights were scheduled. However, service on Trans World Airlines, American Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Delta Airlines, United Airlines and Western Airlines was reported to be running normally.

Foreign airlines were more uniformly out of service. Those listing no flights today included Irish Airlines, Scandinavian Airlines System, Air France, Sabena Belgian World Airlines, El Al, Air Canada, Alitalia, Lufthansa, Swissair and Air New Zealand.

Czechoslovakia said air traffic would be halted for one hour to protest air piracy and memorialize the death of a Czech pilot killed in a hijacking last week.

Airports in Hong Kong, Manila, Tokyo and Berlin reported minimal disruptions, but air service in London was thrown into confusion. A Pan Am spokesman in New York said the airline was experiencing problems in two airports—Vienna, where ground crews were walking out in sympathy with the protest and the Panama City airport, where cars were said to be blocking ramps leading off the runways.

Strike affects George

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

Sen. George McGovern, winding up his campaign for Tuesday's New York Democratic presidential primary, cancelled an upstate trip today because of the airline pilots' strike.

An aide said the South Dakotan would forego appearances in Albany, Rochester, Buffalo and Big Flats "to show his support for the worldwide demonstration against hijacking and the call for international action." Instead, the senator scheduled a news conference at which he planned to discuss the hijacking situation.

New support over the weekend from Montana, Colorado, Connecticut and Utah boosted McGovern's delegate total to 1,656. The total needed to win the nomination at next month's Miami Beach convention is 1,509.

Texarkana man shot, is killed

A 20-year-old Negro man was pronounced dead at the Memorial Funeral Home Saturday night following a shooting on Red Lake Rd., below Sping Hill, according to Hempstead County Sheriff Henry Sinyard.

Oscar Sails of Texarkana was shot once in the chest by a .22 caliber rifle following an altercation at the home of his in-laws, Sinyard said. Sails was shot by Mrs. Lenar Agee, Sails' mother-in-law, and Sinyard stated that the death was ruled justifiable homicide. Sails was rushed to the local hospital and was pronounced dead at 9 p.m.

Hope man receives award at APF festival

The 13th annual Arkansas Poultry Festival saluted the state's $1 billion poultry industry at Hot Springs Saturday night, and a Hope man—Wayne Russell—walked away with the coveted "Man of the Year" award.

In addition, northwest Arkansas poultry producers and contestants captured the lion's share of awards at the two-day festival.

A Waldron beauty, Virginia Rhea Dalton, 21, was crowned Poultry Princess and another Waldron girl, Mary Jane Myers, also 21, was first runnerup. Marsha Dickerson of Conway was crowned Miss Congeniality.

Miss Dalton, who will receive a $1,000 scholarship, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dalton. She is a student at the University of Arkansas, and plans to be a model.

Russell, past president of the Arkansas Poultry Federation and general production manager for the Cornbelt Hatcheries here, was named "Man of the Year" following a $50 a plate dinner and the pageant.

An Emmet man, James B. McGough was named the top turkey producer in the state. He is contracted to the Mountaire Corp., of Nashville and has raised broilers and range turkeys for seven years. McGough is a member of the Broiler Advisory Committee and a board member of the Nevada County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tomerlin of Nashville was named the cooking queen during the festival and Eddie Mike Pope of Mineral Springs was selected as the top broiler producer in Arkansas. Mrs. Tomerlin prepared a "turkey fillet" to win her contest. Pope was cited for having broiler houses with a capacity of 95,000 broilers.

James H. Thurman of Blevins won the coveted "egg producer" award. He is contracted with the Delight Egg Farms, Inc., and has been a commercial egg producer for four years.

Arkansas is the No. 1 poultry producing state in the nation, is No. 4 in egg production and ranks sixth in turkey production.

The new federation president is James Holston of Rogers.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They don't often top the Nielsen popularity lists, but there are more than 175 different religious series in syndication on television stations across the nation, plus uncounted numbers of purely local programs.

They come in all sorts of guises and even disguises—"Davey and Goliath," for instance, is an animated cartoon show for children, sponsored by the Lutheran Church in America; and "Insight" is adult drama sponsored by the Paulist Fathers.

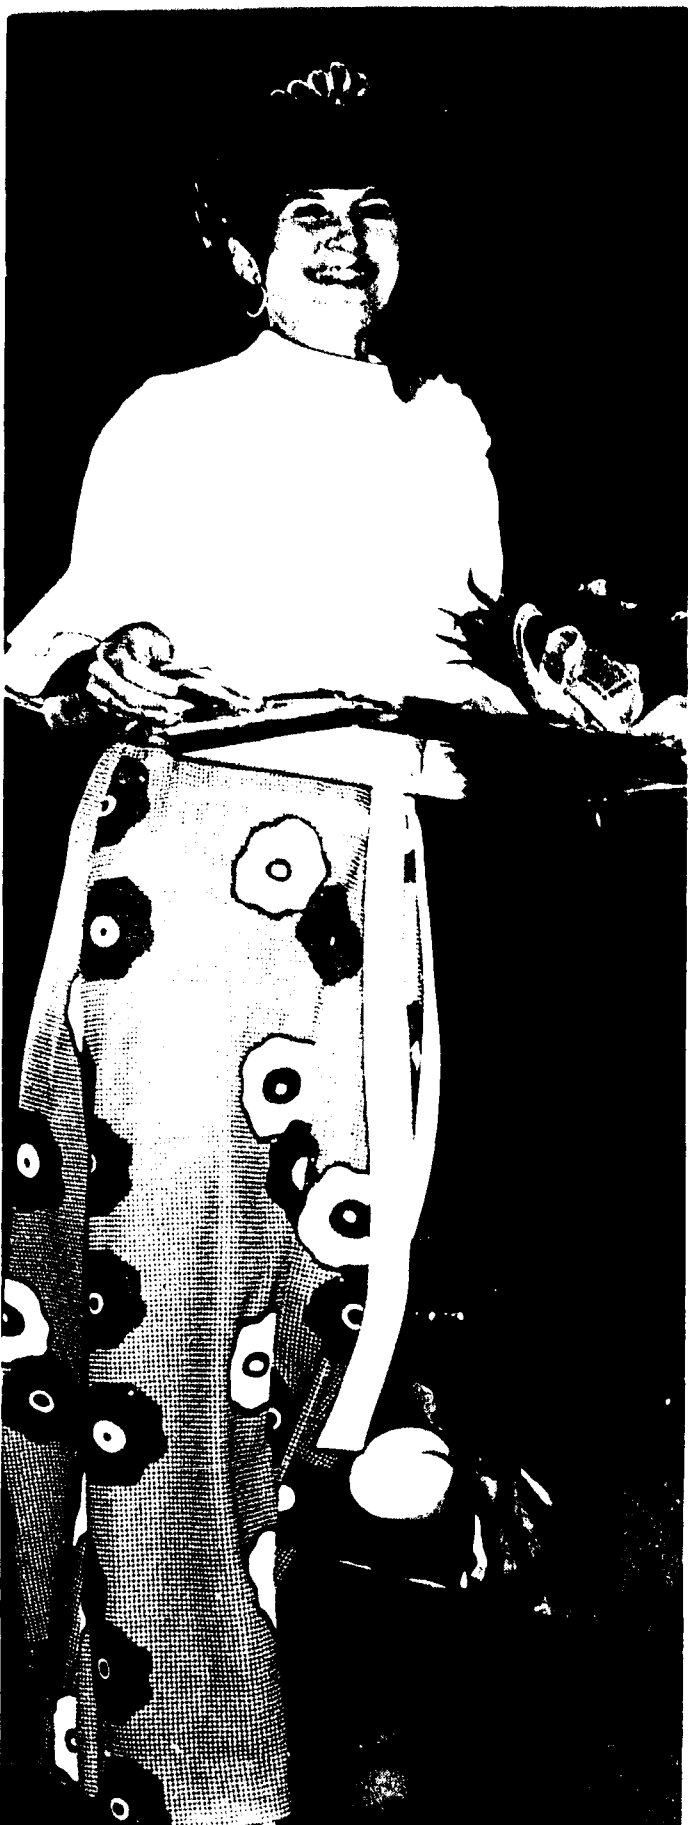

Statistics on the number of programs were recently compiled for the first time by the Broadcast Institute of North America. The survey turned up more than series—there were specials, one-shot programs and programs of lengths ranging from 4½ to 90 minutes.

The Rev. Dr. Martin J. Neeb, executive director of television for the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, conceded that, in the larger cities there is a tendency to tuck religious programs in what he called "unsaleable hours." Very often the programs are broadcast on Sunday mornings, which is great for shut-ins, but many religious-minded people who comprise an important part of the logical audience are attending the churches of their choice.

"In the smaller markets, however, the programs are likely to be broadcast later on Sundays and even on Thursdays and Saturdays," he said. "We are concerned that Saturday, with all those children's shows, has been slowly eroding as a day for religious programs and now with some children's shows on Sunday mornings, those hours are also filling up."

Although many of the religious programs are essentially parts of dramatic anthologies, the category is broad, including sermons, discussions, interviews, documentaries, musical programs and even variety. Most of them are shown without commercials as public service programming, but not all.

Dr. Neeb believes there is a potentially large audience for such programs in prime evening time. When his "Christmas Is" was presented as a holiday special on ABC 18 months ago, it was seen by an estimated 25 million persons. It was repeated last Christmas with an equally impressive audience.

Not Her Ball Game

DEAR HELEN:
I suffer through Saturday and Sunday TV sports—though I'd rather take a drive in the country. I read a book when my husband watches boxing or wrestling, and I haven't quite hit the roof about these three evenings-a-week baseball games. After all, what else is on TV but summer re-runs? So I sew, knit, etc.

He brings home a couple of expensive tickets to a baseball game at a stadium about 150 miles from here, and expects me to fall down and worship him for his "great surprise!" We'll be spending a mint before we're through with the day, what with meals and gas for the car, plus the tickets.

If I want to blow that kind of money it would be for something I'm not forcibly exposed to six times a week on television!

Is this too much, or am I being—UNGRATEFUL?

DEAR UNGRATEFUL:
In my book, it's a bit much, and your husband is pretty unaware if he doesn't realize you'd appreciate another "sports spectacular" like he'd enjoy a fashion show.

BUT!
He bought the tickets, the trip means a lot to him, so don't train a ball game. Go and enjoy—

Couple wed in London rites

In a ceremony characterized by dignity and beauty, Miss Holly Heard Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Williams, London, formerly of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, became the bride of Wistar Harris Trent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Trent, Lynchburg, Virginia.

The bride is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. Joseph Richard Heard, Hope, and the late Mr. Heard.

The wedding took place Saturday afternoon, June 17, at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, London, with Canon David Edwards, rector of St. Margaret's, performing the ceremony.

A program of nuptial music including the wedding march by Lehengrin, Mendelsohn's march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" and a selection of hymns from the Anglican Hymnal, was played by Richard Hickox, organist for St. Margaret's.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in ivory crepe, long sleeves with lace bodice, in the style of Mary Stuart. Her train was also edged in lace and the matching veil was secured by a Victorian silver headband. She carried a single ivory rose. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from her father.

Miss Daisy Heard Williams, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her gown, also of ivory crepe, was fashioned in Victorian style with long sleeves and a flounce on the lower edge of the skirt. She wore a headdress of pink ribbons and carried a colonial nosegay of pink rosebuds.

Shane McNiece of London and Brighton, was best man.

Following the ceremony, guests were received at the home of the bride's parents, 7 Sloane Street, London, by members of the wedding party and the bride's mother, Mrs. James G. Williams.

Assisting were Miss Eleanor Wylie, Ridgeway, South Carolina and London; Miss Linda Tucker, Colorado Springs, Colorado and London; the Misses Christine and Emily Powell, London; and Mrs. Lindsay Wylie, London.

Following a wedding trip through England and Scotland, the couple will be at home at 1504 Edley Place, Lynchburg.

A ball point presidential pen with Nixon's name on it accompanied the card.

U.S. team sweeps Davis Cup finals

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The U.S. Davis Cup team's 5-0 sweep of Mexico in the North American Zone finals has sent the Mexicans away talking of rebuilding their team and the cool, confident American squad into the American Zone finals against Chile.

The United States completed the sweep Sunday as Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., and Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., captured their singles matches. Smith beat the top Mexican, Joaquin Loyo Mayo, 6-0, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. Solomon defeated Octavio Martinez 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

"We'll have to rebuild our team after this shocking defeat," said Yves Lemaitre, Mexico's non-playing captain.

The Mexicans won only one set out of four singles matches and one doubles. Smith accounted for two singles victories, and teamed with Tom Gorman of Seattle to win the doubles on Saturday. Gorman won his singles Friday.

The U.S. team, the defending Davis Cup champion, is scheduled for the American Zone final against South section champion Chile beginning July 21 in Santiago.

Chile advanced to the zone final with a 4-1 victory over Brazil.

In other Davis Cup play Sunday, Romania advanced to the European Zone A finals with a 4-1 victory over Italy.

Romania will play the Soviet Union in Moscow for the Zone A crown.

Czechoslovakia clinched the Zone B semifinal with a 3-2 victory over West Germany.

The Czechs will play Spain in the zone final.

Blue pitches first victory of season

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was Mustache Day in Oakland and, for a change, things didn't get hairy for Vida Blue.

Treated to only one run in the first 25 innings he pitched this season, Blue had begun to wonder whether he was wise to abandon the steel business and end his six-week holdout for a return to baseball.

But his faith was restored by an encouraging 16-hit attack that gave the A's a 9-0 romp over Cleveland Sunday. For his part, Blue allowed just four hits and came away with his first victory of the season after three losses.

The combination of Blue on the mound and free admissions to anyone wearing a mustache, lured 33,277 fans to the ballpark in Oakland. More than 7,000 of them showed up with hair under their noses and were ushered in to watch Blue operate for no charge.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Chicago rapped Boston 8-4, Milwaukee shut out Kansas City 3-0, Minnesota edged Baltimore 4-3 and Detroit shut out California 2-0. Texas' game at New York was rained out.

Watching Blue operate was certainly no charge for the slumping Indians, who've now lost 18 of their last 23 games.

Mike Epstein's ninth homer of the year and George Hendrick's No. 3 helped the A's build a 3-0 lead in the first five innings. There were two out in the sixth when the roof fell in on Cleveland.

Larry Brown walked and Blue followed with an infield hit. An error by Graig Nettles scored one run and Joe Rudi's hit brought home another. After a walk to Reggie Jackson loaded the bases, Sal Bando doubled for three more runs and the A's added a sixth run before finally being retired.

Milwaukee's nine-game losing streak ended as Skip Lockwood limited Kansas City to five hits and the Brewers shut out the Royals.

George Scott scored two of the Brewers runs—the second one when he reached second base after striking out in the sixth inning.

Scott had opened the inning by fanning but when catcher Jerry May dropped the third strike, Scott took off for first base. May recovered the baseball but his throw to first struck Scott and the runner wound up on second base. He stole third and then scored on Ellie Rodriguez' second double of the game.

Rick Reichardt hammered a three-run homer capping a five-run Chicago rally in the fourth inning as the White Sox routed Boston.

Baltimore's nine-game winning streak ended at the hands of Minnesota—but barely.

The Orioles, trailing 4-1, scored two runs in the eighth before reliever Wayne Granger shut off the rally.

Harmon Killebrew drilled a pair of run-scoring singles as the Twins took the early lead. Jim Perry, 6-5, was working on a two-hitter and coasting when he walked Johnny Oates in the eighth. Boog Powell singled him to third and then Brooks Robinson greeted Granger with a double, making it 4-2.

Terry Crowley followed with a single that scored one run but the Twins cut Crowley down trying to stretch his hit and then Granger bailed out of the jam by getting Dave Johnson on a fly ball.

Detroit took over first place in the AL East as Mickey Lolich shut out California for his 11th victory of the season.

Homers by Jim Northrup and Norm Cash accounted for the Tiger runs and Lolich made them stand up with a masterful seven-hitter.

was paid $11,625 from the $83,000 purse.

Second place went to Benny Parsons in a Mercury, third to Donnie Allison in an American Motors Matador, fourth to James Hylton in a Ford and fifth to Carl Joiner in a Chevrolet.

Another Californian, George Follmer of Arcadia, also got a message across: He's going to be tough to derail in a headlong dash toward the championship in the Sports Car Club of America's Trans-Am road racing series for small sports sedans.

Follmer, whose six triumphs in nine starts was the best win-loss record of any pro driver in the U.S. last year, drove a Javelin to victory in the Trans-Am half of a doubleheader at Watkins Glen, N.Y. He was paid $4,000.

The 35-year-old Follmer, selected for the All-America driver team in 1971, now has won three of the four Trans-Am races and appears headed for his first national title.

He grabbed the lead on the 18th circuit of the 3.3 mile Watkins Glen Grand Prix course and never was headed. He averaged close to 100 miles per hour in finishing half a lap ahead of Jerry Thompson in a Mustang.

In Sunday's second half of the Glen twin-bill, Australian Graham McRae was the overall winner in a Leda machine powered by a domestic stock block engine. McRae won the second of two heats and placed fourth in the first for take-home pay of $20,000.

Second place over-all went to Lothar Motschenbacher, who had a sixth-place finish in the first heat and was runner-up to McRae in the second. Skip Barber was third over-all.

Ray Elder is finally getting his message across to the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing's top stars from Dixie. "There is still some gold in California but it belongs to me."

Yankees defeat Giants

Thursday Night Doctors League results were Yankees over the Giants 9 to 8, Cubs 7 and the Dodgers 2, and the Cards 11 - Braves 1 in the nightcap.

The Yankee-Giant battle was a thriller going into extra innings. Sutton was on the mound for the Yankees, striking out 16 and allowing five hits. The Giants pitcher was Martin who gave up three hits and had 12 strike-outs.

Jackson was the winning pitcher for the Cubs with 12 strike-outs while allowing two hits. McHenry and Morrison shared mound duties for the Dodgers.

Scott Hughes was credited with the Cards win over the Braves, striking-out six and giving up only one hit.

Nicklaus wins U.S. Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus stood like a blond colossus atop the pinnacle of all golf today—beside the late Bob Jones and halfway home toward an almost unthinkable Grand Slam—but the experience isn't exactly what he had imagined.

"Bob Jones always was my idol and, as I was growing up, I talked about equalling his record of 13 major championships," the powerful 32-year-old shotmaker from Columbus, Ohio, said after winning his third U.S. Open title and his 13th major crown in gusty Pebble Beach winds that blew down all other challengers.

"I thought about it and I worked for it but I never expected it to happen," he continued, discussing Jones' proud record set in the Golden Twenties. "Now that I've got it, I have a funny feeling. "I am proud to be in his company."

Winner of the Masters and the U. S. Open, the first two legs of the unprecedented professional sweep which no man has accomplished, Big Jack now must set his sights on the British Open at Muirfield July 12-15 and the American PGA at Oakland Hills in Birmingham, Mich., Aug. 3-6.

The final round over the 6,812-yard, par 72 Pebble Beach course that snakes along the crashing waves of the Pacific Ocean was played in conditions too foul for man or beast.

The winds whipping off the ocean reached gusts of 30 miles an hour. The postage stamp greens were hard as concrete and slick as marble. All of the competitors, including Nicklaus, found themselves playing out of craggy canyons and off of rocky beaches.

Twenty-eight of the 70 survivors failed to break 80. Two-time champion Bill Casper had a score of 80. Two other past winners, Orville Moody and Julius Boros, were at 301 and 305, respectively.

Former Masters champion George Archer shot an 87 for 312. Tony Jacklin, the Briton who won both the British and U. S. titles in the space of a year in 1969-70, had a nine on a par four hole, needing three strokes to move the ball four inches in the rough.

Even Nicklaus had a double bogey—on the 10th—in shooting a final round 74 for 290, the second highest winning score in the Open since 1935.

He won by three shots over Australian Bruce Crampton, who shot 78 for 293 with the requiring but frustrated Arnold Palmer a disappointed third with a 76 for 294. Defending champion Lee Trevino, only five days out of a hospital, played in a two-some with the awesome Nicklaus and finished with a 78 for 295, tying another Mexican-American, Homero Blancas, who closed with a 75.

Jack Nicklaus

"I can't recall a day when we almost were not playing golf out there," Nicklaus acknowledged afterward. "Skills were almost totally eliminated. The greens were dead. There was not much, if any, water on them and they had been rolled. "The greens had different speeds. If you made a putt, it was luck. It was a matter of

Palmer finishes in third place

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer called it "probably the toughest Open I've played in."

And his third place finish Sunday added to a personal record of frustration that includes four runner-up spots since winning the U. S. Open crown in 1960 for the only time.

The 42-year-old Palmer was briefly tied for the lead in Sunday's final round of the 72nd Open, after holing a 30-foot birdie putt on the third hole of the windswept Pebble Beach course and generating cries of "Charge!" from his Army of fans.

But there were two earlier birdie putts that stopped within inches of the cup. A last chance to draw even with Jack Nicklaus, who was on his way to victory, trickled to a stop a few avoiding three-putt greens."

Nicklaus, at even par 216, started the final round with a one-stroke lead over Trevino. Crampton and Kermit Zarley with Palmer and young John Miller two strokes back at 218.

At one stage in the early going, at the fifth hole, after consecutive bogeys by Nicklaus, Zarley and Palmer pulled into a brief tie with the leader, Palmer having sunk a 30-foot putt for a birdie at the third.

Nicklaus, dressed in a yellow sweater to match his unruly blond locks, stood up against the elements like a stanchion of steel—increasing his advantage to three strokes—until he reached the 10th, which wind a zig-zag course along Carmel Bay.

There Nicklaus took a double bogey six and suddenly it appeared that a battle might be in the making on the treacherous finishing holes.

"I was hit by a gust of wind on the backswing," Jack said. "I came off the ball and sliced onto the beach where I had an unplayable lie. I hit my third into the bank, chopped out to within ten feet and missed the putt.

Palmer said he realized that Nicklaus had gone over the bank and he took encouragement.

"I thought I had a chance," Palmer, 42, who hasn't won a major crown since the 1964 Masters, said. "Then I missed an eight foot putt at the 14th. That, for me, made the difference."

"I made too many mistakes, especially in driving. I missed my drives on six holes, five of them on the back nine which in the earlier rounds I had played better than the front nine."

Nicklaus hit his climactic shot on the hazard-pocked, 218-yard 17th.

The ball cut through the air, hit the pin, almost dropping for a hole-in-one, and spun six inches away. Nicklaus had only five inches to putt for a birdie that slammed the door. He played the picturesque, 540-yard 18th casually, three-putting for a bogey to still win by three shots.

Stockton captures NCAA title

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Dick Stockton of Trinity University won the singles title in the 88th annual NCAA tennis championships, the first player from outside California to win the crown since 1957.

Stockton captured the title Saturday by whipping teammate and college roommate, Brian Gottfried, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

The fourth-seeded Gottfried won the opening set but was upset by a call midway through the second set and seemed to lose his edge. Stockton's powerful game took charge and produced seven service breaks in the final three sets.

Stockton and Gottfried paced the San Antonio school to an unbeaten season and its first national tennis championship. Stockton will turn professional shortly while Gottfried, a sophomore, will be the only returning member of the Trinity team, which won the title with a record 36 points.

Stanford was runnerup in team standings with 30 points followed by defending champion UCLA with 22.

Officials discuss walk-out

ATLANTA (AP) — Orlando Cepeda, suspended by the Atlanta Braves over the weekend, meets today with club officials in an attempt to resolve the slugging first baseman's two-day walkout.

Cepeda, a 14-year major league veteran and former National League Most Valuable Player, left the club before Saturday's Braves-Montreal night game when his name wasn't in the starting lineup.

He was promptly suspended indefinitely by Atlanta Manager Luman Harris.

"I'm fed up with not playing," the 34-year-old Cepeda said. "I just want to play ball. I show up and I sit. They (the Braves) says it's my knee. If I limp, they tell the papers my knee is bad. But nobody asks me. It's not 100 per cent but I can play regularly."

The left knee was operated on last August.

Biggest shocker of the three-day 64th championships came Friday when Greg Fredericks, a 22-year-old Penn State senior, thrust himself into long-distance prominence by taking the 10,000-meter run in 28 minutes, 8 seconds for an American record.

The 6-foot, 155-pounder sprinted the last lap in 55.4 seconds, beating such top names in the race as Frank Shorter, Tom Laris and Jack Bachelier. That trio also cracked the old American mark of 28:17.6 by Billy Mills.

Wottle, winner of the half mile in 1:47.3, wore his usual white mesh cap—"just to keep my hair out of my eyes." He took a lead in the final straight and then battled to keep his hat on.

Memphis defeats Amarillo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Memphis knocked off Amarillo 9-1 in a battle of Texas League division leaders Sunday, but the winners and everybody else managed almost no change in the standings.

All the Memphis Blues did was move from one-half to a full game margin over runner-up Alexandria in the East Division, and they did that only because the Alexandria Aces split a doubleheader with Midland, winning their first game 7-1 but dropping the nightcap 4-3.

Shreveport whipped El Paso 9-4 and Arkansas bested San Antonio 5-2 as all the other East clubs won and the remaining West teams lost.

Pitcher Hank Webb, making his first official Texas League start for Memphis, twirled a one-hitter at Amarillo, facing only 30 batters. Tommy Hallums provided all the runs the Blues needed, doubling home one run and belting a three-run homer in the ninth inning.

El Paso's Sun Dodgers pulled off the first triple play in the league this season after the Shreveport Captains loaded the bases in the fourth frame. It went like this:

Paul Dade of the Captains hit a fly to center field, his teammate on third base scored and the runner on second advanced as a throw went to third too late. Meanwhile the runner on first dashed for second base, he was caught in a rundown and tagged out, and quick throw from the second sacker to home plate caught another man trying to score.

Five runs on six hits in the first inning gave Shreveport a lead which the Captains never lost.

In the first game at Midland, pitcher Dave Friesleben of the Aces went all the way on a five-hitter and had a shutout until a balk got him into a bat, getting one double, and was 7-for-9 in the twin bill, seeking a home run in the nightcap.

Midland's Cubs rallied after two were out to win the second game in the seventh and last inning. Jim Tyrone tripped to right center and scored after Tom Lundstedt grounded to put it back on," said the nonchalant junior who normally runs the 1,500 and the mile.

Roberts, a blond junior at Rice who won't be 21 until July 23, switched to a stiffer pole for his third try at 18 feet one-quarter of an inch and was over cleanly to become history's fourth man over that plateau.

"It's no big thing," he said calmly after jumping all around the place in ecstasy after making the mark. "What I mean is, it's just another height but there's nothing like winning the Olympic gold medal."

The other distance winners—James of the Navy, Mike Keogh of the New York Athletic Club and Jerome Howe of the Mid-American TC—put egg on the faces of the forecasters, too.

Dare, running only his fourth steeplechase of the year, capfirst base and the Alexandria infielder threw wildly.

The Arkansas Travelers jumped on a starter Dennis Yard for five runs in four innings and held on to beat the Brewers at San Antonio. It was the only victory for the Little Rock club in their five-game series, which saw the Travelers come to town leading the East Division and depart in third place, one and one-half games back of Memphis.

Grounds for Arrest

Two policemen, cruising in a "narcotics neighborhood," saw a man emerge from an apartment house and head for a waiting taxicab. After a quick glance up and down the street, he entered the cab.

Their suspicions aroused, the officers approached the cab and—although they had no warrant—placed the man under arrest. Sure enough, he was carrying a quantity of heroin.

But when the case came to court, the judge held the arrest unlawful and the evidence inadmissible. He said the police had no right to act on what was little more than a hunch.

Under most narcotics laws, officers may arrest without a warrant only if they have "reasonable grounds" for suspecting a violation. This means something more than a vague feeling that something is amiss.

Even a tip from an informer may not be enough. Thus:

A narcotics user told police he had gotten his supply from a certain "Joe" at a certain address. Police found and arrested Joe, but again the arrest was held improper.

Reason: the police had no prior experience with this particular informer, hence no special reason to consider him trustworthy, hence no "reasonable grounds" for making the arrest.

By contrast, a court upheld an arrest when the informer had repeatedly turned out to be right in the past.

Of course, direct observation by officers may also provide adequate grounds for an arrest. For example:

A narcotics agent listening at the door of an apartment heard incriminating statements by the two men inside. Meanwhile another agent peering through a window saw them pouring white powder into typical heroin containers.

These circumstances were enough, a court ruled later, to support the agents in making an arrest.

"A prudent man would be justified," said the court, "in believing that a violation of the narcotics law was being committed."

Father's Day present is good news for Wallace

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — George C. Wallace's doctors have handed him a superb Father's Day present: word that he has a 90-per-cent chance of being able to move about with assistance within six months.

Following delicate surgery Sunday to remove from his spinal canal a bullet that has left him paralyzed from the waist down, the Alabama governor's physicians indicated he will be able to attend next month's Democratic National Convention.

But they said there is less than a 50-50 chance he will ever be able to walk normally again. Chances are better, they implied, that Wallace will be able to partially conquer his paralysis to the extent that he could walk a few steps with the aid of braces and crutches.

They stressed an even-more-likely prospect: that Wallace will be able to stand unassisted and to move about with the help of crutches and braces "by swinging along, rather than walking," even if the paralysis persists. This would mean he would not have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

These possibilities were outlined at a news conference several hours after completion of the 90-minute operation to remove the bullet.

Wallace was shot several times May 15 as he concluded a rally at Laurel, Md., in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Dr. Stacy Rollins, the Holy Cross Hospital neurosurgeon who headed the seven-man operating team, said Wallace's spinal cord—the telephone-cable-like rope of nerve fibers that transmits nerve messages between the brain and the rest of the body—was bruised but intact.

While foreseeing that Wallace most likely will be spared wheelchair existence after intensive rehabilitation training during the next six months, Rollins said "a wheelchair would be an appropriate thing" for the governor's now-virtually certain appearance at the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach next month.

And, how long—from a physical standpoint—could he remain at the convention if he goes?

"If he is nominated, he could stay as long as need be," smiled Dr. Hamilton Hutchinson of Montgomery, Ala., the governor's personal physician.

'Child bill' is set for hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate scheduled debate today on a $2.95-billion child development bill which would establish the biggest federal day care program in history.

Sponsors hoped to pass it by tonight.

However, the fate of the legislation is in doubt. Last December President Nixon vetoed an anti-poverty bill containing a similar child care program and the administration also opposes the new version.

The bill would provide free day care for children of working parents whose income is less than $4,320 a year.

Those with incomes between $4,320 and $6,960 could be charged maximum fees of $317 a year for use of the day care centers for their children.

Well-off families could use the centers but would have to pay the full costs.

Care in the centers would be much more than custodial, offering a wide range of services—educational, nutritional, medical and social.

The Democratic sponsors of the bill offered some concessions to make the new version more acceptable to the President.

The vetoed 1971 measure would have authorized $2 billion in one year, while the biggest single year authorization in the current measure is $1.6 billion.

The President objected that the 1971 bill would have permitted far too many sponsors of the proposed centers. It would have allowed a sponsor group in any town of 5,000 or more, which could total 7,000.

The 1972 version limits sponsor groups to cities of 25,000 or more. This would limit the potential total to 2,000.

The young tennis prodigy from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., passed her first big test on Wimbledon's grass courts and now has a week to prepare for the Wimbledon tournament itself.

She won three matches—two singles and a double—in the United States' 5-2 triumph over Britain in the Wightman Cup series which ended Saturday on Wimbledon's No. 1 court.

"Since I don't expect to win Wimbledon this year anyway, I won't be aware of any pressure. All I hope is that I play well enough to justify my seeing," she said.

Miss Everet defeated Virginia Wade 6-4, 6-4 and Joyce Williams 6-2, 6-3 in Wightman Cup singles.

U.S. planes destroy 76 SAMs in North Vietnam raid

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Two South Vietnamese drives had hard going today despite President Nguyen Van Thieu's claims that North Vietnam's troops were demoralized and bogged down and their offensive had failed.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force said its jets wrecked a large segment of North Vietnam's air defense system, knocking out more than 200 pieces of equipment in four days in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the United States ended a four-day suspension of bombing attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong area following the departure of Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny from the North Vietnamese capital.

Thieu said he was ordering a new three-month campaign to take back the territory lost to the North Vietnamese in their offensive that began March 30. Nearly 3,000 marines launched a new sweep south of the demilitarized zone, while rangers supported by tanks opened a new push to clear Highway 13 between Saigon and An Loc.

The ranger drive fell apart almost immediately under a barrage of North Vietnamese shell fire 10 miles south of An Loc. A senior U.S. adviser was killed, and many of the rangers were wounded. The column, which had just gotten orders to move, pulled back.

The marines ran into moderate to heavy resistance as they tried to push up the coastal strip of land north of Hue called the "Street Without Joy."

The Air Force said its pilots on Sunday knocked out 76 of the big SAM2 anti-aircraft missiles, 45 sustainer canisters, eight missile booster canisters, five launchers and transporters, six SAM radar vans, two anti-aircraft guns and two anti-aircraft fire control directors.

There was no word yet on the targets today in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, but U.S. military sources said the air war was "back to normal," and U.S.

jets were again hitting North Vietnam's industrial heartland.

"We're back north of the 20th parallel," said one source.

From Thursday through Sunday, American bombers had hit the North with the heaviest raids since the resumption of full-scale bombing on April 6. But to avoid hitting Hanoi while Podgorny was there, all of the more than 1,300 strikes were in the southern part of the country, below the 20th parallel of latitude and well south of the capital.

Podgorny told newsmen in Calcutta that "everything went as I wanted" during his visit to Hanoi, and he was "very happy with the outcome." He said the Vietnam peace talks in Paris would resume soon.

Thieu claimed in an Armed Forces Day radio address that the North Vietnamese offensive had failed and Hanoi's troops were demoralized and bogged down.

"Today I start a new campaign for the next three months, to rise up to reoccupy our territory and to chase the enemy out of our country forever. Our armed forces are determined to bring about a new year full of peace and stability."

Alluding to the U.S. air and naval campaign against North Vietnam, Thieu said, "The Communists will never be able to obtain a victory here while their rear bases in North Vietnam are being bombed and blocked."

The operation kicked off Sunday. The South Vietnamese command said 110 North Vietnamese and six South Vietnamese were killed in the first day's fighting and 25 South Vietnamese were wounded.

The Saigon command also reported that 92 North Vietnamese and 10 government troops were killed in fighting Sunday around An Loc and on Highway 13 south of the city.

President says offensive in VN failed miserably

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says the North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam not only has failed, but also has demonstrated that Saigon is the legitimate government of South Vietnam.

Writing in the latest issue of U.S. News & World Report, Nixon said "the way in which the people of South Vietnam have rallied to their nation's defense should persuade even the most committed apologists for the enemy that Saigon, not Hanoi, speaks for the South Vietnamese people."

The President said that ending U.S. involvement in the war—"in a way that leaves our purposes intact, and that will contribute to a lasting peace in the Pacific"—is a major step in carrying out his goal of building a "structure of peace" in the world.

Nixon's 10-page copyrighted article was said by the magazine to be the first he has prepared exclusively and specifically for any publication since becoming President.

The President said both Russia and China have gone through a policy change of "profound importance" after recognizing that "old tactics would not work."

"Neither the Soviet Union nor China abandoned its particular view of the world," he said. "But both accepted the idea that their own best interests would be served better by negotiation than by confrontation."

He said also that the United States has learned that it is not within its "unilateral power" to determine the future of developing nations.

More consumer info is aim of council

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential advisory council of businessmen recommended today a set of guiding principles for packaging and labeling of products to give the consumer more information.

The guidelines of the National Business Council for Consumer Affairs, created by President Nixon last August, are voluntary.

Business members of the panel said that most products should contain the packaging and labeling information within a year.

Commerce Secretary Peter G. Peterson said he is writing the heads of companies and trade associations throughout the country to urge them to adopt the guidelines.

Many of the guidelines have been adopted by businesses. And the principles were broadly stated, leaving room for a wide range of packaging and labeling practices.

James P. McFarland, chairman of the board of General Mills, Inc., is head of the council. He told newsmen that he believed that the great majority of businessmen and trade associations would agree voluntarily to the guidelines.

He also said he has asked for a review within his own company to find out if it is in compliance with the principles.

The set of 13 guidelines called for businesses to provide:

- The identity of the product by its common or usual name, the quantity in terms of weight, measure, size, or count.

State Supreme Court hands down verdicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, without hearing oral argument, ruled today that an Arkansas man acquitted of a murder charge cannot be tried for robbery in the same incident.

The court, with only Chief Justice Warren E. Burger dissenting, received a decision of the Arkansas Supreme Court in the case of Dennis Turner.

A jury acquitted Turner in April 1969 of charges of murdering Larry Wayne Yates near Hope, Ark., following a Christmas Eve 1968 poker game. In October 1969 a grand jury indicted Turner on charges of robbing Yates of $300.

The petition contended the second trial is forbidden by the Fifth Amendment provision that says no one should "be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb."

Burger's objection to the decision was based on the fact that the court heard no argument.

Turner, of Hempstead County, had claimed the evidence the state would present on the robbery charge would be identical with what was introduced on the murder charge.

"Had the jury found petitioner present at the crime scene, it would have been obliged to return a verdict of guilty of murder," the unsigned opinion said. "The only logical conclusion is that the jury found him not present at the scene of the murder and robbery, a finding which negates the possibility of a constitutionally valid conviction for the robbery of Larry Wayne Yates."

The Arkansas Supreme Court in approving the second trial last November, noted that under Arkansas law Turner could not have been tried for both murder and robbery at the first trial. The Arkansas law specifies that murder cannot be coupled with any other charged crime.

The court also held today that a firm which granted a loan on the purchase of real estate could not enforce without good reason a provision in the contract issued in connection with the loan.

The court, in a 6-1 opinion, ruled that Pulaski Federal Savings & Loan Association failed to demonstrate good reason for exercising the provision in a contract with Dan T. Tucker of Little Rock.

The provision in question stipulated that if Tucker sold any of the property he had purchased through a loan with Pulaski Federal without written consent of the firm the maturity of his debt could be accelerated.

Tucker and his father had executed a note for $23,000 with the savings and loan association to purchase a three-unit apartment in December 1965.

Later, Tucker proposed to sell the property to Mr. and Mrs. Vassie Belcher, but Pulaski Federal would not approve the transfer to the Belchers. Nevertheless, Tucker sold his interest in the property to the Belchers.

Pulaski filed suit asserting that the entire unpaid principal balance on the loan was due, plus 10 per cent interest, costs and attorney's fees.

Chancellor John T. Jernigan of Little Rock ruled in favor of the savings and loan, but Tucker appealed to the Supreme Court.

The court, in an opinion by Chief Justice Carleton Harris,

Demos may take action on incident

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien said today the party may take court action over a break-in at the party's national offices in which a security coordinator for President Nixon's campaign committee was arrested.

"We see several problems that may require court action," O'Brien said in a news conference. He said he would confer with the party's general counsel Joseph Califano later today to decide what action would be taken.

"We feel our 1st Amendment rights and our civil rights were violated and possibly some campaign funds were used in a noncampaign manner," which is a violation of the law, O'Brien said.

On Sunday O'Brien had said the incident raised "the ugliest questions about the integrity of the political process that I have encountered in a quarter-century of political activity."

said that the procedure of accelerating the maturity date simply because of a provision in the contract "cannot be countenanced in a court of equity."

Harris wrote that the Supreme Court requires "that there must be legitimate grounds for refusal to accept a transfer to a particular individual or concern."

W. P. Guley Jr., president of Pulaski Federal, testified in the case that the Belchers were disappointed for the transfer because of their payment record on a loan they already had received from the association and because of a credit reported obtained upon them.

Two other officers of the firm testified, however, that the payment record on the existing loan was not considered until after the Belchers were disapproved.

The chief justice said that in the court's opinion, Pulaski Federal did not demonstrate reasonable grounds for invoking the contract provision that speeded up the maturity date of the loan.

McGovern denounces break-in

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

Sen. George S. McGovern today denounced the weekend break-in at the Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington by five men with wiretapping devices as shocking and a "legacy of years of snooping."

Asked whether he blamed the Republican party for the incident, McGovern said he had no evidence that would implicate the Republican party or its leaders.

One of the men arrested in the case was employed by both the GOP National Committee and a Nixon re-election committee. Both the National Committee and the re-election committee denied any involvement.

The South Dakotan, front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination spoke at a news conference in New York after canceling upstate campaign appearances for Tuesday's primary to show sympathy with the international airline pilots' strike.

He called upon the U.N. Security Council to meet without delay to take effective measures against airplane hijackers.

Bowling Balls

Bowling balls are generally made of a hard rubber composition. Balls made of plastic materials can be used, but bowlers cannot use metallic balls.

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—You said that a person eating a balanced diet should be getting sufficient vitamins. The trouble is that most of us don't know what a balanced diet is. Unfortunately, doctors do not seem to be aware that many people are financially and otherwise unable to follow doctors' rules. The restaurants and cafeterias don't know either and that is why people have to use vitamins. What is the individual to do?

Dear Reader—You are absolutely right. Many recommendations in medicine are difficult for the public to follow, particularly in the food area. When you go to the grocery store, things are not packaged or labeled in ways that any person without a fairly good knowledge of nutrition will be able to follow diet recommendations. A balanced diet is one that meets all the minimum daily vitamin and mineral requirements as well as the protein requirements. There are several different kinds of proteins which are essential to the body and for that reason you need a variety of protein sources.

Expressed in foods, that means that at least one meal a day should contain a major protein source, which includes lean meats, fish and poultry. For growing people, at least two meals a day should contain items of this group. Egg whites are an excellent source of protein and can be used liberally. Fortified skim milk, low-fat milk and uncreamed cottage cheese are all excellent sources of protein and calcium. An equivalent of one quart of fortified skim milk should be used each day, particularly for older people to be sure they get enough calcium. Nonfat dry milk powder can be used in cooking also as a source of protein and calcium. Mature bean seeds are also a good protein source and cereals contain some protein.

Essential vitamins and minerals are found in fruits and vegetables. Accordingly, the diet should contain daily a variety of vegetables to include a leafy salad and two or three different vegetables every day, like carrots, peas and the colored vegetables. Tomatoes, of course, are excellent in the salad.

It is also wise to have some fresh fruit each day, an orange, banana or apple, and if you are not eating fresh fruit it is more important to have one fresh tomato a day.

Cereal is an important source of vitamins and you can get that from home-cooked oatmeal or any of the prepared breakfast cereals and a variety of breads. Unless calorie restriction is necessary, at least two slices of a good-quality bread a day are desirable, particularly if other cereal is not used.

If you follow these general principles, you are most likely going to have a balanced diet. The things you do not need for a balanced diet are sugar and sweets of all kinds and starchy desserts and puddings. The real key to a balanced diet, then, is variety, with emphasis on the foods that give you a variety of vitamins and minerals with adequate protein.

Personal fiance

You'll save at least $4 every time you have to change airlines to reach a destination by making sure you're getting the new "joint fare" required under a Civil Aeronautics Board ruling effective this month.

Formerly, when you had to use two or more different airlines to reach your destination, each airline charged its full fare for that part of your trip. Under the new rule, the airlines must offer passengers a single fare for the whole trip, which will result in minimum savings of $4 at each change of airlines. On longer trips you can pocket a good difference.

Don't assume you're being given advantage of the new joint fare. Make it a point to ask what the difference is between the separate fares and the joint fare. Airline agents mean well, but they're human and make mistakes, or forget. A traveler of our acquaintance got a $32 refund after a three-legged trip recently when, by chance, she called to ask for a breakdown of the fares for expense account purposes. She was told she'd been overcharged that much.

That suggests that it's a good idea to make a second call to the airline, after you've bought a ticket, and ask a second agent to figure the price. It's the only way most travelers have of double-checking—and as Shakespeare or someone said, to err is human; to refund, divine.

Many taxpayers who've had to file declarations of estimated tax during past years, because of nonwage income, are being relieved of that chore this year.

The I.R.S. has raised the ceiling on the amount of income nonfilers are allowed.

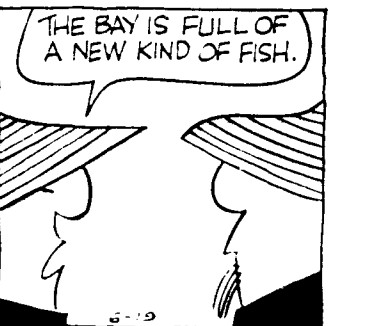

You're still required to file the estimate (and make the payment) if income from sources other than wages "can reasonably be expected" to exceed $500. Formerly you had to file the estimate if you had, or expected to have, $200 or more of income not subject to withholding.

You also were formerly required to file a declaration (and you probably didn't even know it) if husband and wife, filing a joint return, had combined income of more than $10,000. Now you're excused if the combined income is under $20,000.

If you just learned that you should have filed a declaration last year because the family income was more than $10,000, and you didn't—don't cringe in a corner waiting for an I.R.S. agent to knock on the door. Estimated tax penalties for 1971 have been waived.

Quoits is the correct name for the game of horseshoe pitching.

Untapped bloc of voters is being tapped

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're young and live in a working-class neighborhood, chances are you'll be tapped in movie line some summer day and asked about your voting plans this November.

If you live in New York, a decision to register to vote may get you a ticket to see the Yankees or maybe even the Mets.

An organization claiming it has registered more than 500,000 college students since the voting age was lowered to 18, has turned its attention to what many politicians say is the greatest untapped bloc of voters in the nation: blacks, chicanos, Puerto Ricans and white non-college students, all between the ages of 18 and 24.

"They are the forgotten people," says Ridley Whitaker, executive director of the National Movement for the Student Vote. His goal is 750,000 more new voters.

Sustained by $750,000 in private foundation grants, the movement says it is nonpartisan and that its ranks include Republicans, conservative Young Americans for Freedom, and the leftist Students for a Democratic Society.

Since ratification of the constitutional amendment lowering the voting age, the Movement has concentrated on signing up the campuses and handling legal battles for students denied voting privileges in precincts or towns where they attend college.

For the summer months, the Movement will focus on eight big cities: Newark, New York, Washington, Houston, Dallas, San Diego, San Francisco and St. Louis. Cleveland, Milwaukee and Philadelphia will be tackled later.

A few other cities where the organization has found little cooperation will be ignored, Whitaker says, because the group feels the hassle wouldn't be productive.

At a news conference Thursday, Whitaker mapped out how the registration drive will work:

From 100 to 200 paid workers and volunteers will act as deputy registrars, registering new voters and recruiting more volunteer workers, particularly from minority groups.

Direct registration efforts will be concentrated at rock concerts, in movie theater lines, baseball parks, community centers, shopping centers and in door-to-door canvassing of ghetto and working-class neighborhoods.

Wherever people stand in line, Whitaker said, they are bored and probably wouldn't object to being approached because "registering to vote is believed to be an inherently boring process anyway."

In New York, the baseball Yankees have agreed to provide free tickets to hand out with each new registration, he said. Other major league teams are being approached about the idea.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — Alice Cooper, the five-member rock group, has gotten into a flap with Customs officials over 750,000 pairs of ladies panties.

The group packaged their latest record album, "School's Out," in disposable panties that failed to pass the Federal Trade Commission's Flammable Fabrics Test.

Consequently, Customs officials don't want the English-made panties to enter the country.

Ashley Pandel, an official of Alive Enterprises, the New York management firm for Alice Cooper, said the first shipment of 250,000 pairs already had been shipped to record manufacturing plants where the albums are being packaged. Another shipment of 500,000 reached Philadelphia about a week ago.

However, distributors hope they have a solution to the problem—a spray which renders the panties fire resistant.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Col. Muammer Kadafi, the Libyan leader, has decreed that the press in his country will be free, provided that all newspapers support socialism, the party and the revolutionary regime.

In reporting the decree Sunday, the Middle East News Agency said in a dispatch from Tripoli that the 29-year-old Libyan strongman has "opened the doors of freedom before the press to accomplish its role, by serving the revolutionary, socialist society."

Young intern to be speaker for budding doctors

By BILL STOCKTON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 27-year-old doctor has made medical history by becoming the first member of the American Medical Association's powerful House of Delegates to represent the nation's interns and budding specialists.

Dr. Eugene Ograd, training to be an internal medicine specialist at the Sacramento, Calif., medical center, took his seat Sunday among the 240 other members of the House of Delegates as the AMA opened its annual convention. The average age of members of the House of Delegates is 50.

Ograd's presence and that of his alternate, Dr. Neville Connell of Washington, D. C., is a significant departure from past AMA conventions, a reflection of a reform movement afoot to give the nation's 50,000 interns and residents a voice in AMA affairs.

"I think it's imperative that young physicians be involved in a meaningful way in the affairs of the AMA," Ograd said in an interview. "There are too many decisions being made by the AMA affecting our training and the way medicine is going to be practiced 15 years from now when we'll be the doctors in private practice."

Ograd, who was graduated from Stanford Medical School in 1970, said his presence in the House of Delegates is only a first step.

"The most important thing is we must first establish ourselves and then begin dealing with the problems facing interns, residents and young doctors," he said.

He said these doctors want more say in how they are trained as interns and for their specialties; they want a voice in solving medicine's problems of delivering health care to the poor and the elderly; and they want a role in deciding how organized medicine should react to legislation affecting medical practice.

AMA critics have been calling several years for representation in the AMA of interns and residents, whom the critics called medicine's disenfranchised doctors. The House of Delegates voted last year to allow an interns-residents delegate this year and Ograd and Connell were named in a caucus Saturday.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — Ask a broker why the market is up or down at any specific minute and he will give you an answer. The worst crime in the business is to appear misinformed. You must always have an explanation.

These explanations are not difficult to come by. The big brokerage houses usually supply their people with a likely explanation before the start of business each day, usually tying it to news events.

Even without such a cue card, any broker can take his choice of a dozen or so explanations from the daily newspaper: war, politics, monetary policy, strikes, corporate profits, government regulation, inflation.

You don't have to prove that any of these are real factors because it isn't likely that anybody can effectively disprove them.

An examination of this process is unusually significant now because the personalities and programs of the presidential candidates have been used as a crutch.

The market is disappointing investors, it is said, because of the likelihood that Sen. George McGovern will be named the Democratic candidate for president.

The explanation sounds reasonable when it is accompanied by highlights of the more anti-establishment aspects of the McGovern program.

But nobody in Wall Street, with all its alleged research power, seems able to offer evidence that even suggests that this "explanation" is based in fact. Though it serves the market, it may deserve the larger public.

A perceptive analysis of the market is made by John Wright, the Bridgeport, Conn., investment adviser.

Wright calls the current interpretations "excuses for" rather than "causes of." He lists them:

Renewed doubts about inflation being brought under control following a rise in the Wholesale Price Index.

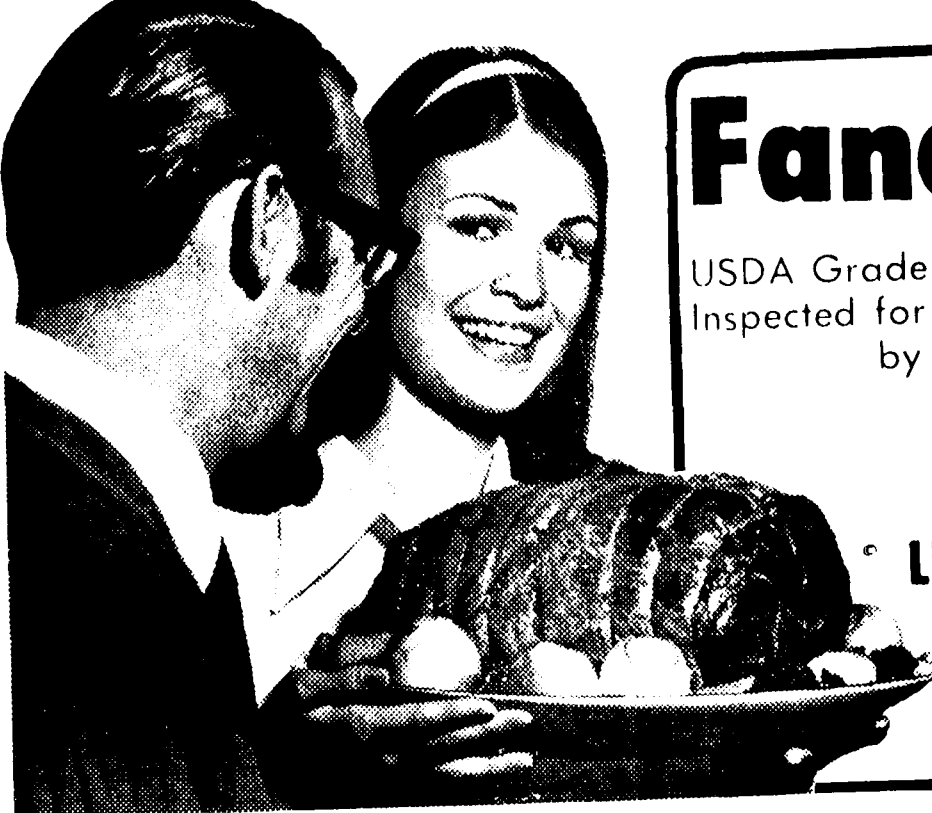

The McGovern candidacy. A growing realization that postelection tax reform will add up to higher taxes and lower deductions, "regardless of who appoints the tax collectors."

Why does he call them excuses rather than causes?

"The stock market not only always finds an excuse to do what it is going to do anyway, but also creates its own psychology in the process."

Oswald: "One of the first things taught to beginners is the rule of second hand low. Not all the time, of course, just as a general rule when a low card has been led."

Jim: "Once you've taught that to beginners it may take years to teach them that there is many a time to go the other way."

Oswald: "West opened the queen of clubs and continued with the jack after a low club was played from dummy. South ruffed, entered dummy with a trump and played the deuce of diamonds. East has an almost automatic play of a low diamond."

Jim: "It was almost automatic, but East happened to be Paul Levitt of Fort Worth. Paul's work with computers has kept him almost entirely out of bridge for some time and as far as we know this represents his only appearance at the table this year."

Oswald: "It wasn't hard for Paul to see that his king wouldn't do him much good if he hung on to it and that maybe a quick heart lead was needed. He played second hand high, led a heart."

Jim: "South had no chance to play low. West took his king and cashed the ace of diamonds for the setting trick."

Oswald: "If Paul had just played second hand low South would have been able to set up a diamond for a heart and West's king of hearts would have withered on the vine."

A—Just bid five clubs. A four-heart call would show a better suit. A four-spade call would probably be read as a slam try in clubs.

Instead of bidding three clubs, your partner has bid two diamonds over your one heart. What do you do now?
